To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter of recommendation for Mr. Daksh N. Patel, who was a student in Principles of Corporate Finance 334, Section 400, which I taught online during Summer 2026 at the Quinlan School of Business, Loyola University Chicago. After the course, Daksh and I met in person to discuss general business topics and his career plans.

Daksh mastered the complex and broad-ranging material in my course—which covers all aspects of corporate finance—earning a grade of “A,” with a perfect score of 100%. His success is the result of his strong work ethic, organization, focus, commitment to excellence, and self-motivation. Both verbally and in writing, Daksh communicates well. He demonstrates business acumen, good judgment, and emotional maturity. Besides possessing an engaging personality, he exhibits a professional appearance and demeanor. Daksh Patel has unlimited potential for growth.

Among the thousands of students whom I have taught the past ten years at the Quinlan School of Business, and among the thousands of individuals whom I have worked with in my forty-plus years in finance, Daksh Patel ranks in the top five percent.

I recommend Daksh Patel most highly.

Sincerely yours,
